ALL NIGHT AT THE PUMPS

Narrow Escape of Passengers and Crew

RAN ON A SUBMERGED WRECK

The St. Louis Rescues Over Two Hundred People from a Sinking Ocean Steamer.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 12.—The big Netherlands-American boat Vendam from New York to Rotterdam, was lost at sea on February 8th. The American liner St. Louis brought her passengers and crew safely into port today. The ill-fated steamer had aboard 9 cabin, 118 steerage passengers and a crew of 85. A submerged wreck tore a great hole in her bottom and broke out her propeller shaft. All the pumps were set to work but the water gained and the boats were made ready.

The male passengers joined the crew at the pumps. All night this was kept up in a heavy sea. At 10 o'clock on a stormy morning the St. Louis was signalled that the vessel was sinking. No mishap of any kind attended the transfer of passengers, though a heavy sea was running. The transfer began at 2 and ended at 5 o'clock. When the last boat load of passengers left the Vendam she was sinking rapidly. She was fired.

The Vendam rated as first-class. She was fitted with an iron screw and triple expansion engines. She was three days out when she struck the wreck.

COMMENDED BY PASSENGERS.

The passengers of the St. Louis passed resolutions commending the gallant service and splendid seamanship displayed by the officers and crew in rescuing the passengers and crew of the Vendam.

SAFE ROBBER CAPTURED.

Knew the Combination and Had Been There Before.

For some time past Mr. E. G. West has been missing money from the safe in his saloon. He suspected Martin Kelly, a former employe and last night he decided to remain and watch for the thief. Secreting himself near the front entrance Mr. West waited and watched.

Between 1:30 and 2 o'clock a. m. a man appeared at the front door, unlocked it and stepped inside. Here he waited a moment, apparently listening. Making sure that he was not watched he went to the safe, which was distant about ten feet from where Mr. West was concealed, lighted a match and began working the combination.

Without waiting further developments Mr. West fired upon him with a 32 calibre pistol and the robber made a break for the door. Mr. West caught him and forced him to surrender at the point of his pistol. No police men being near by the prisoner was carried up to the chief-of-police, who had him locked up.

It was a cool, nifty act on the part of Mr. West and a lucky thing for Kelly that he was not killed. The ball entered his clothing on the right side and passing through the folds of his coat lodged in his vest. Mr. West told The Telegram man that he didn't know just how much money he had lost, but that the robbery had been going on for some time. The fellow had been discharged three or four months ago on suspicion of being "light fingered." Mr. West thinks he had learned the combination by watching him open the safe. The locks have been changed three times, but each time Kelly has managed to secure a key that would let him in.

A Novel Hair Curler.

Jeweler Farrar was displaying a novelty in the way of a hair curler this morning. The handle of the curler is an alcohol reservoir with a burner at the end next to the iron.
When a maiden wishes to frizz her locks all that is necessary is to light the alcohol and the iron remains hot as long as desired obviating the necessity of smoking the iron over a kerosene lamp and the danger of burning the curls. Hereafter curls should be more abundant than ever.

ORDERED TORN UP.

What Was Done by the Board of Aldermen Last Night.

The board of Aldermen met last night, Mayor Nelson in the chair.
All the members present except Glan and Hiatt.

R. D. Douglas, attorney for the street railway company stated that the company refused to take up the track and denied the right of the city to do so.

Alderman Sergeant moved that the street committee be authorized and empowered to take up the track.

John J. Phoenix asked to be allowed to sell fresh meats, fish, oysters, etc., in his new building. Continued, and referred to the market committee to report at the next meeting.

C. E. Holton and C. N. McAdoo, representing themselves and other property owners, appeared before the board and made a proposition in regard to the extension of the drain through McAdoo's meadow to and across East Market street, they offering to do a certain portion of the work if the city will do the rest.

Alderman Elam moved that the matter be referred to a special committee to get up an estimate of the cost of same and have the proposition of the property owners put in writing and report at next meeting.

Alderman Shaw moved the reconsid-eration of the vote by which the railway track was ordered torn up. Carried.

Alderman Shaw offered as a substitute for the original motion an ordinance ordering the taking up of the track by the company and on their failure to do so, empowering the city to do so. Carried.

R. D. Douglas, attorney for the company, denied the right of the city to pass the ordinance and refused to comply with its provisions.

Mr. Ireland asked the city to begin the work of cutting down the hill on Gaston street between Edgeworth and Spring streets.

Alderman Shaw offered an ordinance instructing the city engineer to make a survey of all the principal streets on which grades have not been established with the view of establishing grades, and that he report to the board as the work progresses. Carried.

The board adjourned to meet again next Monday night.

Lincoln's Birthday Celebrated.

Reported for The Telegram.

The celebration of Lincoln's birthday by the students of the A. & M.
College last night in the chapel of the college was fine. A large number of citizens were in attendance. "America" was used as an opening song.
Prayer was offered by the Rev. Powell. The Emancipation Proclamation was read, and a female quartet rendered in sweet strains "The Old Camp Ground." The female baritone in this quartet was powerful. Prof. J. M.
Butler, the musical director for the institution is a hard worker and deserves much credit. The programme was somewhat lengthy, and before the last piece was rendered, Pres. Dudley, came forward and thanked the citizens for turning out to witness the exercises and begged them to come often and bring their friends. Prof. Chas. H.
Moore, was master of ceremonies.

Tobacco to Burn.

People at the depot today at noon saw something rather unusual in the way of a train. Fifty solid cars of leaf tobacco from the inspection and storage warehouse of J. E. Perkinson & Co. of Danville, Va., passed through. The train was drawn by two engines and the tobacco was consigned to W. Duke, Sons & Co. at Durham where it will be used in the manufacture of "Duke's Mixture." The train was abundantly placarded, showing its contents and destination.
Evidently the demand for Durham's brands of smoking tobacco is not falling off.

Price Slaughtering.

More stupendous price reductions and phenomenal saving opportunities will be inaugurated with next week's sweeping clearing sale commencing Monday at the Guilford Department Store. It promises to raise havoc with list prices on all lines of goods.
This hustling firm guarantees that all goods are fine and fashionable.
No matter how ridiculous the prices may seem.

Their sale opens on Monday at 10 o'clock. A rare opportunity for unparalleled bargains.

At the Academy of Music this afternoon there was much merriment in the pie eating contest. The Hordings Merry Makers gave a matinee for the benefit of children.

INTIMIDATING WITNESSES?

A Grave Charge Brought Against Mine Owners

DEFENSE PROMISES A SENSATION

This Evening or on Monday—Says that the Witnesses are in Court Under Protection.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 12.—Lawyers for the defense in the Lattimer trial expect to spring a sensation either late today or on next Monday. They claim that they have evidence going to show that two prominent mine owners have personally authorized the intimidation of witnesses and have kept away men who would otherwise have testified for the state. These men, it is claimed, have been induced to come into court, and have been assured that they will be protected from interference by their employers.

WILL REST THE CASE.

Wilkesbarre, Feb. 12.—There is a likelihood now that the attorneys for the defense will rest their case without calling any witnesses. They will argue that the sheriff had a right to order his men to shoot, even if it was a "mistake."

OLD TIME MINSTRELS.

An Excellent Entertainment at the Casino Last Night.

The Casino auditorium was well filled last night with an audience that showed its appreciation of the excellent minstrel performance presented by the favorite Gorton minstrels.

The gorgeous stage settings of the first part attracted favorable comment but when DeWitt Cooke, the conversationalist, began his part of the entertainment, assisted by H. J. Yorkey and Dick Vander the "bones" and Hawk Goodman and George Mullan the "tambors," the stage settings were forgotten and peals of laughter and round after round of applause were given with a hearty good will.

The singing was especially deserving of praise. The soloists and quartette were very good and the noted gold concert orchestra was fully up to the expectations. The show was clean, bright and humorous from start to finish and not one person in the large audience was dissatisfied. The specialties by Hawk Goodman, Joseph Gorton, Jr., Mullen and Vander, H. J.
Yorkey, DeWitt Cooke Crandall were strictly up to date.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Feb. 12, '98.

Dr. McIver arrived in the city yesterday morning on the South bound train to spend a day with Prof. Crowell at the Graded school. He visited the different grades and offered many valuable suggestions which were highly appreciated. At night our people had the pleasure of listening to an address by him which was delivered in the Presbyterian church to a large audience. He spoke in complimentary terms of the work being done at the school. The lecture was much enjoyed by those in attendance.

Mr. Fred Chapman, of Danville, Va., the gentleman who was spoken of in the Telegram a few weeks ago who had taken three girls from the orphanage to raise, yesterday adopted the sister of the last one taken.

The Southern Chair Co., are getting so far behind with their orders that they have decided to enlarge. The plant work has commenced on the new building. There were 107 loads of logs received one afternoon last week.

A. S. W. Thompson offers a reward for the return of his bicycle which was stolen from his shop last night.

Emery Henderson was very painfull-ly hurt last night. He was riding his wheel and ran over a dog. It threw him. He received an ugly wound on the head.

Those who attended the concert given by Will Lindsay in the Opera house last Thursday night speak of the same in highest terms and have requested that the concert be repeated next Monday night.

A birthday party will be given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John H.
Tate tonight in honor of their niece Miss Carrie Joyce, of Detroit Mich.

Profs. John Blair and Charles Tomlinson, of Winston, were in the city today.

The Winston dramatic club will probably render "Charley's Aunt" in the High Point Opera house at an early date.

A group of the Guilford College foot-ball team appeared in the enterprise yesterday.

BIDS DUELIST MOORE COME ON.

Colonel Breckinridge Ready to Gratify a Thirst for Blood.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 10.—The thirst for blood in a duel with the Breckinridges to which Captain T. E. Moore has given expression may yet be gratified. Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge's paper has a scathing and soothing editorial this morning on this subject, headed: "Once a Man, Twice a Child," and ridiculing Captain Moore as follows:

"We regret that this venerable Pooh-Bah should set so bad an example to the rising youth of Kentucky as to publicly challenge men to mortal combat. Life is too short to waste its fleeting hours in associations from which no improvement can arise, but if our indignant candidate for office feels that he cannot succeed without meeting somebody, and will go about seeking that meeting with some degree of energy and alacrity, it is not impossible that he might succeed."

Electricity Kills a Horse.

A horse owned by Stephen Beyer, a cloth sponger of Ferry and Aleya streets, Newark, and driven by his 15 year old son, was instantly killed near Beyer's place of business last night by an electric shock. A wire supposed to belong to the Newark Electric Light and Power Company had broken and hung down in the street to within a few feet of the ground. Its end struck the horse in the head. The animal sprang into the air, broke its harness and then fell dead. The electric current travelled from the body of the horse through the reins and shocked young Beyer into insensibility. He soon recovered and seemed not much worse off for his experience.—New York Sun.

England Buys all the Coal.

London, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Singapore says that the British admiral, acting under instructions from the admiralty, has bought all the available Welsh coal at Singapore and at the Chinese and Japanese ports, with the result that the foreign quadrants in the waters of north China are almost immobilized.
The step has excited the foreign community. The dispatch adds that the Russian cruiser Russia, which is now at Singapore, has been allowed to take on board 2,000 tons of coal.

THE ZOLA FARCE CONTINUES

Guards About the Court Increased in Number

COL. PICQUART ON THE STAND

Another Man Prosecuted for Crying "Down With the Commanding Officers."

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Feb. 12.—There was the usual crowd and an increased guard about the assize's court for the Zola trial this morning. Gen. Bellet, the foreign minister of war, has instituted proceedings against Courant who, at the close of yesterday's proceedings was assaulted by the by-standers for crying "down with the commanding officers."

Col. Picquart, who was called, said he believed Gen. Pellieux, because the Dreyfus case was settled and not because he thought it incumbent upon him to order the bordeau submitted to expert examination for the purpose of the Esterhazy inquiry.
Major Ravary doubtless took the same course and unwittingly founded his judgment on incomplete and inadequate documents.

Hoyt Building Burns.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 12.—The Hoyt building, a large five story brick structure on the northwest corner of Bank and St. Clair streets, occupied by stores and manufacturing concerns was burned this morning. The loss was $200,000.

State Department Worried.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The state department is worried over not hearing from Minister Woodford further regarding the De Lome incident. It is intimated that his communications may be held up. No information had been received at 2 o'clock today.

More Bodies Found.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Pittsburg, Feb. 12.—The bodies of William Finch, "Little Chief" and George Newman, inspector of the Philadelphia Natural Gas Co., were found in the ruins of the fire this morning. Two men are working in the ruins.

Served His Jugular.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

ing fell through a pane of glass and minutes.

Spain Wants a Loan.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 12.—It is understood that Spain has recently applied to England for a loan.

Ohio or the United States.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—Senor De Bome heaped more insults on the administration today. Talking to a friend, he said:

"I am very sorry to leave the United States without having resolved one tting. For a long time past I have not clearly understood whether I was accredited to the government of the United States or the state of Ohio.
There is the famous Mark Hanna, Mc-Kinley, Secretary Sherman and the Honorable Mr. Day, all from Ohio.
Some of you that I leave behind ought to investigate and determine whether Ohio runs the United States or has merely annexed it as an outlying province. Possibly that is the reason of the stir for the annexation of Cuba."

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstony had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstony sent the old lenses with an explanation to the oculist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following:

ELECTRIC LIGHTS ONCE MORE.

Some time ago the Telegram published a few facts with regard to the system of arc lights used here. The lights are, as all citizens know, short of the requirements of the town at this time.

We propose to show that the town pays enough for the lights now furnished to light the town efficiently.

The arc lights here are of the regulation 1200 candle power kind and are run on what is known as "moonlight schedule," this means that for three nights of the month lights need not be furnished and only when the moon is not shining for the rest of the time.

For this service it will be recalled the town pays $87.50 a year. Formerly it paid $100 a year. The number of lights furnished is 68.

Another town in this state has an electric lighting plant which is owned, as the plant here is, by a private company. The town uses about 100 lights of 1200 candle power and it costs the company just $38 a year to furnish the lights to the city. What the city pays the company is, of course, another matter. The plant is run by steam and has no economical advantages over the plant here. The plant, however, is well managed.

The neighboring town of High Point owns its own lighting plant. It runs about thirty 1200 candle power arcs on the moonlight schedule and the cost to the town ranges from $38 to $41 a year. A larger number of lights could be furnished at a somewhat lower average.

The city of Charlotte uses about 100 lights of the same candle power as the arcs here. The lights burn every night and all night and without reference to the moon and the city pays the company $84 a year for the service.

Thus it will be noticed that Greensboro pays more than twice as much per light as it costs to produce a light in other cities and inferentially as it costs to produce a light here. Of course the company must realize enough beyond the actual cost to pay reasonable dividends on its stock. But it is a pretty long jump from $38 to $87.

Making all reasonable allowances it is evident that the town pays enough for lights to light its streets properly. More lights should be required for the same money.

TENNYSON AND HALLELUJAH.

If any fond hopes lurked in the bosom of the enemy that after all the Honorable Hallelujah Ayer would be moved to reconsider his dire determination to devote himself to editorial pyrotechnics this number of the Caucasian has blasted 'em.

The Honorable Hallelujah celebrates his return to the charge in a column leader under the modest caption of "What We Shall Do" and desires the inference drawn therefrom that it will be a plenty. From Cherokee to Currituck he warns the democrats to scurry for their holes. The Honorable Hallelujah is manufacturing some lightnings. We present this sample bolt: As long as it countenances by approval or by silence a journalism whose highest ambition and noblest achievement are to invent and apply nicknames to public officials, we shall despise it.

As long as it remains as it now is we can and shall defeat it.

The "it" is the democratic party. You will perceive that if the press does not cease to speak of "Hallelujah" the penalty will be, not defeat, we could stand that, but Hallelujah will despise it. But the party must make itself over. It is not built on lines to suit the fastidious taste of the Honorable Hallelujah. It excites a few choice scorns in him every time he looks at it.

Let it be dropped in here by way of preface that Hallelujah is the fountain of taste for the populist party. He is of the upper crust. He wears tooth-pick shoes, and socks and parts his hair in the middle and only eats with his knife in a fit of absent mindedness when he is preparing to spit a "haughty noble" or puncture a plutocrat. Nicknames the Honorable Hallelujah considers low.

Next the writer administers a gird to the small of his back and liberates the following white-winged hope fringed with reminiscence:

Let us not be discouraged if progress is slow.

It required many years for the French people to free themselves from the oppression and plunder of the haughty nobles and rulers of that country.

All haughty nobles who may chance to read this will please properly abate their haughtiness.

Keeper Burns is the court of last resort in painting but in poetry it is the ethereal soul of the Hon. Mr. Ayer that feels and interprets for the whole populist party. He has been reading Tennyson. He adds this choice nugget of riches to literary criticism:

Many years ago a prophecy and belief were expressed by a man who had a heart for the people, and who believed in their ultimate emancipation. This man was Tennyson, and some of his lines and utterances approximate grandeur.

Where in all the range of literature we ask can so much critical acumen be found compressed into one tense sentence? Who before had learned that "Some of his lines and utterances approximate grandeur?" And to think that a soul with powers and instincts so fitted to adorn the higher walks of literature should be forced to occupy itself in so vulgar a way as spearing plutocrats, puncturing bond holders, letting the wind out of conspiracies and saving mere common people! Why, the conceits of Hallelujah are fine as silk. His lines and "utterances" not only approximate grandeur, they swat it right in the solar plexus. Grandeur? Hallelujah is himself the very grandest sort of grandeur.

Mr. Ayer quotes as follows from Tennyson's "Locksley Hall:" Men, my brothers, men the workers, ever reaping something new: That which they have done but earnest of the things that they shall do: Eye, to which all order festers, all things here are out of joint, Science moves, but slowly creeping on from point to point: Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers, and I linger on the shore, And the individual withers, and the world is more and more.

Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers, and he bears a laden breast, Full of sad experience moving toward the stillness of his rest.

If Mr. Tennyson had lived in these times he would probably have amended his lines somewhat as follows to fit conditions and the poetical genius of Mr. Ayer:

Men, be whiskered, men the howlers, ever howling something new: That which they have done but earnest of the things that they shall do: Eye, to which all order festers, all things here are out of joint, Science moves, but slowly creeping on from point to point: Knowledge comes, then will pops linger, linger on and rule us here, And our state with scandals laden, sadder grow from year to year?

Knowledge comes, then up my brothers, up and cast them from the state, Not a decent man will help them, not a man will moan their fate.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

The Century for February has several rather noteworthy contributions, "Heroes Who Fight Fire," by Jacob A. Riis, is a deserved tribute to firemen who are in reality about the only heroes left us in these commonplace days. Dr. S. Weir Mitchell contributes a second instalment of his "Adventures of Francois." The exposition at Omaha is discussed and the experiences of a steamer passenger on one of the great trans-Atlantic liners is vividly given by H. Phelps Whitmarsh. Two amusing sketches are given as Gallops; Talbot Kelly describes his adventures in the desert. There is a paper on the manuscript of "Auld Lang Syne" and a charming story, "Bre'r Coon in Old Kentucky," by John Fox, Jr. It is the best magazine of the month.

The Wake Forest Student for February stands at the head of southern college monthlies. It opens with a fine paper by Prof. Poter on "Open Air Meditations" and there are few men better able to write entertainingly on that topic than this enthusiastic naturalist.

S. P. Holding has a discriminating contribution on "Tuberculosis." The fiction and poetry of the number are well written. Altogether there are 100 pages of excellent reading matter; speaking literary taste and ability. Especially good is a poem, "Eternal Youth," by G. R. King.

A very interesting literary memorial has been erected at Hawick, where a stone has been placed in the wall of the cottage at Haggiesha, where Robert Paterson, the original of Scott's "Old Mortality," was born in 1712. The old man was an itinerant cutter of gravestone inscriptions, and his work is to be found in many grave yards on the Borders. Scott met him once and immortalized him. A statue of him stands at Maxwellton, and I believe that Philadelphia also remembers him. He died in 1800. It was Elizabeth Paterson (she spelled the name with a double t), who married Jerome Bonaparte.

"Northward" is the title of Mr. Peary's new book, which the Frederick A. Stokes Company will issue early in the spring. A sub-title adds that the book is a narrative of life and work along the shores and upon the ice cap of Northern Greenland, in the years 1886 and '91-'97. Another Stokes book of similar interest is called "Andree's Balloon Expedition," and is written by MM. Lachambre and Marchon, of Paris, the ballooning experts who built his balloons and finally started him on his journey.

Alphonse Daudet's last story, "Le Southern de Famille," which he completed shortly before his death, will be published shortly in an English translation, with the title of "The Wage Earner."

Dr. Talbot Williams has written a paper on "Tammany Hall" for the Half Moon Series of New York historical pamphlets. Edwin V. Morgan has written another on "Slavery in Old New York."

Henry W. Nevinson is writing an account of his wanderings up and down the Greek frontier and over the Pindus range before and during the late war.

Harry de Windt's book, entitled "Through the Gold Fields of Alaska to Bering Straits," will be published this month.

The late Charles A. Dana's book of travels in Russia and the Caucasus is to appear as "Eastern Journeys."

Dr. George Cary Eggleston has written a new group of Southern Soldier Stories.
